Work Opportunity in Forensic Psychiatry at the Centre for Addiction and Mental Health

camh

Join our team

The Centre for Addiction and Mental Health (CAMH), a fully affiliated teaching site for the University of Toronto, is seeking a psychiatrist to provide care to forensic patients as part of the Forensic Service, Complex Care and Recovery Program. Duties include inpatient and outpatient assessment and treatment, court and correctional work with the availability of third-party assessment work. There are teaching opportunities with undergraduate and postgraduate students, and forensic psychiatry subspecialty residents. Participation in research and other academic activity is encouraged.

Who we are

The Forensic Service is a growing clinical program of 191 inpatient beds, court and community programs and a prison mental health service. We have a world-renowned sexual behaviours service, with research in sex offenders. Our research also includes forensic mental health issues. We are the first Canadian centre approved for sub-specialty training in forensic psychiatry.

CAMH is Canada's premier addiction and mental health facility. It is a world leader in the diagnosis and care of patients with addiction and mental disorders, offering a spectrum of care for people with severe and persistent mental disorders. The University of Toronto is the largest and most prestigious research-intensive university in Canada. The Department of Psychiatry has a strong tradition of integrating clinical, teaching and service delivery. Research includes early intervention and prevention, brain imaging, genetics, psychopharmacology, neuropsychology, psychotherapy electrophysiology and service delivery.

What qualifications we seek

Applicants must be eligible for certification with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada and for licensure with the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Ontario. Candidates should also be eligible for an academic appointment at the rank of assistant or associate professor in the Department of Psychiatry at the University of Toronto. Clinical lecturer-level applicants may be considered. Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.
